SHOUTS EPITHET FROM GALLERY TO O.L. McPHERSON

House Electrified as Edmonton's Mayor Indignantly Cries "You're a Liar" as Ex-Minister Makes Charge

Crowded galleries in the legislative chamber were electrified on Wednesday afternoon when His Worship Mayor Joseph A. Clarke stood up in the members' gallery and charged O. L. McPherson, U.F.A., Little Bow, former speaker and former minister of public works, with being a "liar".

One of the largest crowds of the entire session flocked to the legislative chamber to hear the members continue debate in committee of the whole assembly, on the bill, sponsored by Hon. J. F. Lymburn, K.C., attorney general, aimed to muzzle the press of this province in its reporting of matters of public interest connected with civil proceedings in the courts of Alberta.

Mayor Seated in Public Gallery

His Worship the Mayor had entered the members' gallery and was waiting to see if the bill amending the Edmonton city charter would be touched. Mr. McPherson rose to speak and delivered a diatribe against the press. He referred to his own physical attack upon Charles E. Campbell, owner and publisher of the Edmonton Bulletin, near the door of the legislature on Monday evening. He alleged that following the affair, a Liberal "council of war" had held a caucus and among those present was "Fighting Joe" Clarke.

You're a Liar! Shouts Mayor

His Worship jumped to his feet and shouted "You're a liar."

The member for Little Bow continued and as the Mayor moved for the door of the gallery, with an order by his side, he turned again and shouted down, "He's a liar and he knows it."

Mr. Speaker Takes Appropriate Action

A motion was moved by Gordon Forster, U.F.A., Hand Hills, that the incident be reported to Mr. Speaker, which was done later in the evening, and Mr. Speaker declared he would take "appropriate" measures to prevent a recurrence.

The incident was typical of the frayed tempers of members.

As has been the case throughout, opposition members battled the efforts of the U. F. A. steam-roller to muzzle the press.

Some measure of success was attained, as Hon. J. F. Lymburn, K.C., attorney general, added a clause to the bill to the effect that press comment would be permissible in cases started before the bill was passed.

He declared this addition was being made at the request of the two principals of two cases now before the courts.

Tory Leader Attacks Measures

Leading the assault on the restrictive measure in the Wednesday battle was D. M. Duggan, provincial Conservative leader, who reported the arguments already advanced by W. R. Howson, K.C., provincial Liberal leader, and others.

Mr. Duggan challenged the attorney general to move that the committee rise on the bill. He claimed the time was inopportune to bring down two such restrictive and

Parliament Feebly Flickers But For Long Easter Recess

By THOS WATLING

OTTAWA, April 18.—The House of Commons last night laid down and died, but left one foot sticking out of the grave, for the members and Senators to come back on May 20th and complete the obsequies. The last day before the adjournment was a typical example of a Bennett government without Bennett. Proceedings were haphazard and the government hoping to get its unemployment public works bill through, bent down over the Toronto tunnel, and half a dozen Liberal members kicked it in. The House adjourned with the Toronto Tory members feebly kicking in the tunnel.

The government which could not appear in the Narrows bridge at Vancouver and turned thumbs down on other needed public works, asked parliament to vote a couple million dollars in Toronto (triggers) could trip over to Hamilton's Island to construct a little bridge to Lake Ontario. Millions were spent to create at Sunbury one of the world's greatest artificial beaches. When the millions were spent it was discovered the lake was too cold to bathe in, and then came the proudest spectacle of the session, the running pool of large proportions built on the north shore of Lake Huron, by the rippling of the lake.

AIRPORT WAS EXCUSE

One excuse given for the tunnel was that it would lead to what would be the world's greatest airport. Some years ago when Hon. Peter Venn, father of the airport, tried to build an airport at the north end of the city, it was found that the city in an airport maintained by a commercial company.

TORONTO'S BIG PLANS

Now comes Toronto with grandiose plans for an airport. Toronto Tories in the house proclaimed it as going to be in charge of it. In the world, and they want a million dollars to build a tunnel to

LIE GIVEN TO McPHERSON BY JOSEPH CLARKE

Mayor Takes Oath He Did Not Attend Any Liberal Caucus

Giving the lie to O. L. McPherson's statement made on the floor of the legislature Wednesday that the Mayor (Clarke) had attended a Liberal caucus Monday, Mayor Joseph A. Clarke, U.F.A., Hand Hills, on Thursday signed a statutory declaration under oath that he had not attended such a meeting.

"I declare absolutely that the statement made in the legislature on his honor as a member, by Mr. McPherson, that I had attended a Liberal caucus Monday, is absolutely untrue, and I am not aware of any conversation about his case in the Liberal rooms or any other room in the legislature building with the leader of the Liberal opposition, Mr. O. L. McPherson, or any other person, absolutely without foundation."

Action of League Again Emphasizes Hitler Edict To Avoid League

BERLIN, April 18.—Germany has conveyed through diplomatic channels an expression of protest against Great Britain's attitude at Vienna and Geneva, in joining with France and Italy in condemning the Reich's rearmament.

Ambassador Sir Eric Phipps was summoned last evening to the Wilhelmstrasse, where Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs W. von Bülow in the name of the Reich protested against the attitude. No public recognition of this interview, however, has yet been made by the German government.

British embassy spokesman, according to the Associated Press, and the official argument, was that yesterday's action by the League Council condemning the Reich's rearmament was the end of any talk of Germany rejoining the League of Nations.

Under-secretary von Bülow also received the Italian ambassador in a similar manner, and expressed his desire of knowing from the Italian government whether it still considered the Locarno treaty, whether it still considered the League of Nations, and whether it still considered the Locarno treaty.

WOMAN ASPIRANT FOR MAYORALTY LODGES PROTEST

Manitoba, B.C. Ministers Will Whole-Heartedly Give Support to Ottawa Proposal.

WINNIPEG, April 18.—The "agricultural" prairie provinces are keen to co-operate in the Dominion government's $1,000,000 plan to reach into unexplored territory for gold.

Provincial governments, including mining men and university authorities, whose share might directly benefit, are enthusiastically welcoming the federal scheme, included in a $25,000,000 public works bill presented in the House of Commons yesterday.

Hon. J. S. McDermid, Manitoba Minister of Mines declared to the government would give wholehearted support to the exploratory work. Manitoba's gold-mining activity has grown tremendously in the last few years but was still a small fraction of what it would become and the federal plan would be most useful and profitable.

IDEA "GOLDEN"
Professor Z. S. Doherty, head of the University of Manitoba geology faculty, said the idea would be a "golden" one to students who would otherwise be assured of practical experience.

Approves Plan
OTTAWA, April 18.—Premier H. T. Patterson of British Columbia and Hon. C. F. Fraser, Minister of Finance, both expressed great interest at the announcement, so far as they are familiar with it, that the Dominion government will send an expedition to the Yukon, to explore areas of Canada this year. They declared British Columbia was expending considerable sums of money for the same purpose.

Hundreds of prospectors would be materially aided, said the premier, and the development of new areas, including the territory of the province, would be greatly advanced. The plan would be most useful and profitable.

Beauty Is Behind Art, Religion

To see the world in a grain of sand, and eternity in an hour, is the perception of the great romantic poet, William Blake, who wrote these lines, and yet, to the meanest, in his search for beauty given the power to see the physical manifestation to realization of great spiritual ideas. So one felt, listening to Mrs. E. Herklotz of Winnipeg, as she addressed the women of the Saint P. Cathedral at a special meeting arranged in the parish hall on Wednesday afternoon, "Art and Religion" was Mrs. Herklotz' subject, through which she related the aesthetic of art to poetry and interpret beauty, to the inspiration of deity which is behind all.

Beauty is truth, truth beauty," she reminded her listeners, quoting from Keats, that the great artist in the slave of beauty in that he has the imagination to give vitality to all things beautiful which are his inspiration. It is an aesthetic vision which starts the artist to a passion for expression. His intuition of the divine is skin saintliness. The artist, too, must have technical facility before he can interpret beauty, as the saint can hear to express his experience, Mrs. Herklotz suggested.

To understand art, one should not seek the definition and the absolute, but approach a great painter in humility and feel, rather than the artist's lesson than see only the physical representation. Children are far more sensitive to this than adults, said Mrs. Herklotz, pointing in the instance of a child in children whom she has under her instruction in art. Adults lose the sensitiveness and spontaneity which is a child's nature, and the same thing characterizes their reaction to art.

Speaking of the artist's part in the social world Mrs. Herklotz related the story of the famous master craftsman, which changed her with the Renaissance, and then through the many upheavals of human history, to intense individuality.

Mrs. Herklotz urged her listeners to visit the Edmonton Museum of Arts, fourth floor Civic Block to see the present exhibition of modern American paintings. Modern art should never outrage one, for it is as sincere as beauty and truth. It is the expression of the modern age, and it is intensely vital and sincere.

Canon E. Pierce-Goulding occupied the chair for the meeting, and thanked Mrs. Herklotz for her address, and for her most inspiring and fascinatingly spiritual address.

Steps That Lead To Heaven

Steps That Lead To Heaven

Rock gardens, once cultivated, require less care than any other type of gardening. The weeds soon disappear after the plants start spreading over the rocks. It is a good idea to visit other rock gardens and decide what you want to avoid in your own rockery. Also note the plants which seem to have the most attractive foliage, for foliage plays an important part in the rock garden. Few rock plants bloom continuously, and a great deal of the time we see only the foliage. It is also well to note which plants seem to do best in your section of the country.

While it is not necessary to have steps in the very small rock garden, if you can have a few steps either leading up to or through the rock garden it is very desirable. If these steps can be made to appear as an incidental part of the garden, or to follow a sort of walk among the rocks, this all helps to make a beautiful garden. The main object is to keep the rock garden looking as natural a part of the landscape as possible, and not just a pile of rocks sticking out of the ground.

Limestone is the best kind of stone to use in rock gardens. For the upper, or topmost stones, use the most weathered limestone. When filling between the rocks with earth, do so very thoroughly so that no pockets of air will be left, for in freezing weather these pockets will freeze and die the plants to permit the dirt.

Examinations Are By-Word At University

By DOROTHY HOWEY
Spurred by the air, all right. Whatever spring means to other people, it means to the University students a time of examinations. The 330 variety has usually the scene of most hilarity, people get stepped on, books get thrown and lunches get squashed—but no such thing as a free lunch. On the days, a gloom, impenetrable and depressing atmosphere hangs over U of A. The bus driver tells him he is getting quite down, himself. Everybody has conceived a sudden passion for their books, and their Latin texts in the hall. In luck and even in lectures. The usual lecture is a sufficient bump into one's head down and very much occupied. "Oh, excuse me," he said, and in the same breath mumbled to himself, "Can you get me a book?"

CHILD SAFETY RELIEF MOVE IS DESIRED

Chamber Commerce Sees Danger in Unrestricted Dole System

Unrestricted relief orders formed the basis of a discussion during the regular weekly council meeting of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce held in the Hudsonia, Wednesday noon, under the chairmanship of C. Gerald O'Connor, president of the Chamber.

The matter under consideration was decided, was the welfare of the children. The plan, it was stated, had been tried in other places and had not been a success, and in view of the fact that food, shelter, fuel and clothing are the items of relief set out by legislation governing relief, there would be the greatest danger of children suffering as experience in other places had amply demonstrated.

It was decided by members present that the city council be urged to give the matter serious consideration and obtain all possible information before making such a change, particularly in view of the fact that experience in other places had shown a sharp rise in the numbers on relief when such methods were adopted.

Endorsement of the resolution of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce expressing opposition to the unilateral cancellation of controls which seems to have become a habit of the last few months was expressed during the meeting.

Hollywood Gossip

INTIMATE GLIMPSES AND INSIDE STUFF
ON THE MOVIE COLONY
By DAN THOMAS

FOR the last three months Frances Dee had been pointed out as one of the luckiest girls in Hollywood. And all because young Jack Whitney, millionaire sportsman who recently turned film producer, chose her for one of the leading roles in "Becky Sharp".

The first feature length production to be made in the new three-color Technicolor process, this film picture. He feels that the film is the outstanding experiment and the biggest forward step made by the film industry since advent of sound.

"The only danger with color pictures is too much or faulty use of color," he declares. "Properly handled, the addition of color should make pictures three times more enjoyable than they are at present."

COSMOPOLITAN POPULATION
With a population of 50,000, the Malay Peninsula is packed with residents of every nationality, said Mr. Morgan during an interview in the Macdonald hotel. Of this population, he explained, 30,000 are Chinese, 10,000 are Indians, while of the white residents there are 10,000, the balance being "a little bit of everything."

Living conditions, said Mr. Morgan, are ideally simple. On the island of Java, which is some 800 miles long and 50 to 60 miles wide, there is a population of 40,000,000 and the majority of the men are able to live on the absurdly low sum of $3 a month and even at that keep two wives and invariably a large family. No housing problems exist, said Mr. Morgan, and the native is able to produce practically all his own requirements.

Remarkable strides in education have been made. Although education is not compulsory it is the ambition of every native that his children should receive some schooling. Two types of schools exist, one where the native children learn English and where there is a small number of the Chinese and the other where the children are taught in Malay and learn Arabic writing.

LAW ENFORCEMENT
Contrary to popular opinion, said Mr. Morgan, law and order is remarkably well enforced in Singapore and although there is a certain amount of crime cases it is quite possible for a white woman to walk alone in any part of the city without fear of molestation.

The police force, said Mr. Morgan, is very efficient. The ordinary constable is usually a young man, while the detectives are of any race, but mostly Chinese and the officials always European.

Traffic is of the most up-to-date type, explained Mr. Morgan, the pick-ups, once the only means of transportation are practically nonexistent, save for very short trips. Traffic policemen, always natives, wear white uniforms and are equipped with their arms for directing traffic, a practice which causes much amusement to the Singapore natives and one which, he earned them the title of "angel."

There is not, Mr. Morgan asserted, any racial prejudice in the Malay Peninsula that exists in India. The dominant fact of education has aroused among the Indian natives has not reared its head among the natives of the Peninsula. Save among the native servant class, which has been found to be particularly hostile to the British rule, which is enforced with firmness and impartiality.

No Income Tax, Moderate Temperature, Contented People

No income tax, a temperature that runs an even 86 above during most of the year, not too much rain, a consistent maintenance of law and order, and generally speaking, a thoroughly contented population — these are the main descriptions of the Malay Peninsula in general and Singapore in particular given by W. S. Morgan, branch manager in this city for the Manufacturers Life Insurance Company, who has been a resident in Singapore for seventeen years and who is a native of the United States.

COLLECTIVE BARGAIN BILL STANDS READY

Industrial Disputes Measure to Have Third Reading Shortly

Sponsored by Hon. George Hoadley, minister of trade and industry, the bill respecting industrial disputes, providing for establishment of conciliation, conferences of employers and employees, working hours and wage matters appears before the legislature, was passed through committee of the whole legislature on Wednesday and now stands ready for third reading.

This bill was piloted through committee in face of strong pressure by several opposition members that manufacturers and other employers and interests should be given ample opportunity to study the legislation prior to passage of the bill.

Earlier in the day, the bill had received second reading at the hands of the house.

Hon. Mr. Hoadley informed the house that an additional part would be introduced giving the government power to deal with machine standards. This Act in its entirety, was similar to that passed in Ontario, he said. This bill would apply to all industries save mining and agriculture.

Fred J. White, provincial labor leader, declared the bill was only compulsory in the case of agriculture between employers and employees, and aimed at avoiding disputes on both sides.

The minister suggested that as he had to go east, he desired some time before the Act would be brought into force. It was suggested that May 15 would be a good time. This was not entirely agreeable to Mr. White.

W. Harry Ross, Liberal, Calgary, declared that the bill had just been passed by the house and that the employers in this province, having a large investment, were being given a chance to read the Act.

On a vote to bring the Act into force only on manufacturing, the majority ruled against it.

Col. F. C. Jamieson, V.D. K.C., Conservative, Edmonton, suggested that the bill should be brought into effect by proclamation and not when given assent. This would enable an examination of a similar Act passed in Ontario.

Mr. White said this would not be good enough, after the experience encountered in the trade and industry Act.

Mr. Ross said the measure enacted was designed to stabilize industry, cut out overtime and give more employment. He was opposing to the provision penalizing the small employer.

CREDITORS TO LOCAL PARLEY ARE NAMED

GET CAMPAIGNING
Giving a short address, Dr. Williams, secretary of the league, urged upon his hearers the necessity of preparing for the coming election at the earliest possible date, especially if the election was anticipated, when place between June 15 and 30.

We must get everybody out to get behind social credit, said Dr. Williams. "It is only during the last week or so that the old parties have begun to realize the dangers of social credit to their position."

They are getting uneasy and now all are going to forget their little minorities and pass up on us, but Mr. Chairman, let them come," he stated in conclusion.

Delegates nominated beside each other during the election were:

K. Tupper, William Anderson, Guy Patterson, Dr. W. S. McCann, W. Manning, M. A. A. McKinnon, J. Hanna, Mrs. M. A. McKinnon, Mrs. P. K. Hanna.

Our King and Queen On their Silver Jubilee

TODAY is reproduced one of those rare pictures of the royal family together—and even this picture omits Prince George, youngest son who is now the Duke of Kent.

Two years after the war—up until 1921 at least—were years of great trial for the King and Queen.

Beet with labor troubles, the Irish situation a puzzle to all government leaders, the desire to pacify a growing opposition to British rule in India constituted great worries to his majesty, destined among his people, to preserve peace and unity as he was at all times. The period of rebuilding after the war years was taking a form that no one could have foreseen or planned for.

But during this period the king was most generous. He was in constant touch with his ministers; he made special appeals to the people and personally took action to bring together labor and capital at this time in open conflict.

PROTECTIVE FARM DEBT BILL READY

Measure Exempting Articles From Foreclosure Get Third Reading

Extending protection to farmer debtors by increasing the list of articles exempt from debt actions, the new bill to Promote Stability in the Agricultural Industry was passed by the committee of the whole legislature on Wednesday and now stands ready for third reading.

Prior to obtaining passage through committee, the bill gave a mixed reception to the U.F.A. members proclaiming it to be a step in the right direction to increase rural buying power and position members decriing it as a measure.

The bill will remain in effect until May 1, 1935, to which date it also extends life of the Debt Adjustment Act.

Hon. J. F. Lymburn, K.C., attorney general, described it as a piece of over-riding legislation, and vigorously urged that there should be no question to the advance of the social credit.

Mr. Lymburn here was challenged Mr. Payne on the remark, reminding members had been insisted to members of the house.

L. A. Groulx, Liberal, Groulx, vigorously urged that there should be no question to the advance of the social credit.

TAX INCREASE TO START T $3,000 INCOME

New Basis Not Retroactive, Applies Only to 1935 Payments

Sitting in committee of the whole assembly until 1:15 a.m. on Thursday, the legislature, on motion of Mr. J. White, provincial labor leader, Calgary, discussing the amending bill to the Income Tax Act decided to commence increased taxation on net incomes at $3,000 and above, as had been provided in the bill.

In the result, the effect of the White amendment will be that a married couple will not be subject to the tax unless their aggregate income for the year touches the $3,000 mark, before applying the $1,500 exemption for married couples.

As it had been brought into the house by Hon. J. Russell Love, provincial treasurer, the tax would have been applicable to gross incomes of $4,500 or more.

It was agreed that the new scale would not be retroactive to include 1934 taxes, but would apply on the 1935 payments.

Ability to pay tax should be the basis upon which the tax was levied, declared Mr. White.

SCHEDULE REVISED
The increase becomes effective to gross incomes of single persons when the income reaches $3,750, instead of $3,750, as previously provided. The rate of taxation on net income is being increased, as a result of the motion from three to four per cent and on incomes between $4,000 and $5,000 from two to three per cent. No alteration was made in the other sections of the schedule which provide for increased levels on the higher salaries.

Mr. White also convinced the house to adopt, on a division, a proposed amendment to the Income Tax Act, 21 years old, who have been unemployed for more than one year and who are dependent, to be listed among those for whom exemption can be claimed under the act.

Wreck Victim Asleep When Catapulted

HEATHERTON, N.S., April 18.—Stories of narrow escapes were recounted here last night, following treatment of the Canadian National Railway express here yesterday, but that of Chas. F. Fiddling was perhaps the oddest.

Fiddling was asleep atop the tender, while the crash came. He was still asleep when he sailed through the air, and landed in a haystack, where he was rudely disturbed.

He was not hurt, but he was very much shaken. He was rescued by a passing train.
